To the Representatives of the "Canton Foreign Community" of 1856.

GENTLEMEN,—The amount of Interest accruing upon the Indemnity paid by the Chinese Government for the destruction of the property belonging to the late "Canton Fire Brigade," is Nine Hundred and Ninety-five Dollars and ninety-eight Cents.

As those amongst your number, who continue to reside at Canton are known to feel much dissatisfaction that no portion of the principal sum was voted to the re-establishment of a "Fire Brigade," for the portion of the Settlement at Chamcen, I beg to propose that the amount above mentioned be left in the hands of H.M. Consul for that purpose, to which I believe it to be fully adequate. Should no objection to this course be intimated to me on, or before the 15th February next, I shall consider myself exonerated from responsibility in regard to the sum in question.—I am, Gentlemen, Your obdt. Servant,

C. W. MURRAY,
Treasurer to the late "Canton Fire Brigade."

We hear that arrangements are in progress for giving two grand Concerts in which all the artistes at present in Hongkong will take part. We hope the negotiations will be successful, for we believe that the combination of artistes would receive, as it would certainly deserve, the support of all classes of the Community. To carry the arrangement into effect however, it will be necessary to obtain the use of the Theatre; but when the interest of so many eminent artistes would be involved doubtless the Committee of amateurs would do all in their power to facilitate the enterprise. Pending the negotiations. Miss Amelia Bayley's, Farewell Concert is postponed,—sine die.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

THE "ALABAMA."

PART 2.

To the Editor of the "Daily Press."

What, then, is her history and what are the considerations which deprive her of a proper character of Ocean belligerency?

FIRST.—She was built in defiance of Public Law and in contravention of the Special Statutes of England, at Birkenhead; whence she was surreptitiously taken to Sea but a few hours before the telegraphic order to seize her reached Liverpool. She thus escaped without either a Register or Port clearance and known only as vessel No. 290, from the building yard of Laird and Son.

Too late in recognizing her unlawful character, (owing it is stated, to the illness of legal advisers); although Mr. Collier (now Mr. Majesty's Solicitor General) had pointed it out, and which was only too surely betrayed by her sudden departure in disguise and without documents, Her Majesty's Ministers strove to intercept her by sending orders for her seizure to Queenstown and Nassau; but she avoided those ports.

And therefore it required only that she should receive her crew and her armament and stores to constitute her the lawless Sea Rover that she has notoriously become;—the pre-requisite of visiting a port of the so-called Confederacy, in order that her inchoate character should be determined and an assumed legality be conferred upon her subsequent career by the Rebel Authorities, never having been complied with although she made an attempt to enter the port of Salveston in Texas.

In this respect her status being, thus, left unlike the "Florida's," which succeeded in entering the port of Mobile. Conceived and built, as we see she was, in violation of the Laws of Nations, the statutes of England and the Proclamation of the Queen, and wanting all color of legality, this vessel was conducted off Point Lynas where another steamer was awaiting her with a portion of her crew and stores; and thence she proceeded to Terceira, one of the Azores, belonging to Portugal. There she was joined by the British Vessel "Agrippina," which had brought from England the principal part of her Guns and Stores. While transhipping these the Portuguese Authorities interfered to prevent such an abuse of a neutral port; but were disregarded and falsely told that the Alabama was merely relieving the other vessel because she was sinking. Soon after, however, the British Steamer "Bahama" arrived direct from Liverpool, whence she had been cleared as "for Nassau, with Raphael Semmes and about fifty additional men, and the residue of the Guns and Stores. Then the Portuguese Authorities ordered them all off. They finally complied so far as to go to another part of the coast of the Island, where they completed the transhipment, in defiance of the Sovereignty of Portugal. There, too, Raphael Semmes took command of the "Alabama" and hoisted the Rebel flag on her in place of the Ensign of England, which had been flying over her before; read his commission; and started on his course of license and spoliation.

We see, therefore, in what a spirit of audacity the Authorities of both England and Portugal were disregarded in the three first stages of the Alabama's career;—that, if I may use an expressive figure of speech to typify its malign influence, the incubation of this Sea Monster was under the shelter of the Flag of England, that its struggles into life in its destined element, wherein it sought the shores of Terceira, were by prostituting the same Flag,—and finally that it obtained its insidious and destructive power under the shelter of the Flag of Portugal, in defiance of the repeated injunctions of her Authorities to leave her Sovereignty inviolate.

Thence forward, as though revelling in his lawlessness and, with a deep cunning, foreseeing as its consequence a provocation to hostilities between England and the United States, to which last he owes allegiance as a Citizen and which as an Officer he had sworn to support,—he has prosecuted a cruel War upon the Ocean against his peaceful fellow citizens of America;—assuming, for this purpose the Flag of England sometimes and at others the Flag of the United States,—first one disguise and then another as a ruse, and even burning ships at night instead of day. In order to attract the sympathy of unwary Seamen to the spot whereat he was lying in wait for their capture; nor has the property of other Nations escaped his work of spoliation and destruction, whilst it has inflicted great hardships and exposure upon innocent Seamen and even upon Women and Children.

Thus,—having no Court of Prize or legal status anywhere,—his cruizes have been marked by burning wrecks, as from point to point in the Oceans he has been chased by the National Vessels of War. Driven from the Atlantic by them, he sought the Coasts of Brazil; and there, with characteristic insolence, violated the Sovereignty of that Empire, which produced a Decree of expulsion and exclusion.

We next hear of him off the Cape of Good Hope, and more recently near Java, and the last day or two near Singapore,—intercepting and destroying vessels; in one case effecting a capture within British waters at the Cape, in another burning a ship with a British Register, in several destroying the property of neutrals on board American ships.

In short, so obviously illegal is her origin and her career, that it is understood that the Government of the United States considers itself justified in presenting the claims of its citizens for the losses inflicted upon them to the British Government; and the recent seizure of the Rebel Rams in the Mersey indicates the measurable concurrence at least, of Her Majesty's Ministers in the views of the former.

These are the facts and such is substantially the history of the Alabama's origin and career; and it would seem that no one can doubt that it is marked by the characteristics of lawlessness, rather than with those of legality:—Thus marked in the eye of the Laws of Nations and in the eye of the Laws of England.

And quite aside of and beyond these elements of the question of legality, is the other most important one that the United States Government has not acquiesced in the recognition of the revolted portion of the Southern people of the Union as properly entitled to the rights of Belligerents at Sea.

What, then, is the status of Raphael Semmes according to the Laws of both the United States and England?—The answer is found in the following citation of the Law, though I am unable to name the Statute.—By various "statutes in England other offences (beside robbing) are made "piracy."

"Thus, if a subject of either of those Nations "commits any act of hostility against a fellow subject on the high Seas, under color of a commission from any foreign power, this is an act "of piracy."

And what would be the predicament of the British Seamen among her crew if the principle which the British Government sought to establish at the outbreak of the Crimean War had been acquiesced in by the United States?

I find the proposition cited in Wheaton (last edition) as follows:

"Both Great Britain and France would, and "this time, most readily, enter into a Convention, "stipulating that their subjects or citizens, their "Government being a neutral, who shall accept a "commission or letter of Marque to engage in the "Privateer service, the other party to the Convention being a belligerent, may be treated as pi"rates."

The Declaration of the 16th of April 1856 by the Congress of Paris did not make this point conclusive with all Nations; but it was not because the United States stopped short of so high a principle: It was, rather, that the leading powers of Europe hesitated to give completion to the principle, as you have seen in the Memorandum of Count Walewski, already sent to you, the counter proposition being therein mentioned, though it is not stated in its entirety. And as it is of permanent value, as will as of present interest I here embody it, in the words of President Pierce, as follow:

"The proposal to surrender the right to em"ploy privateers is professedly founded upon the "principle, that private property of unoffending "non combatants, though enemies, should be "exempt from the ravages of War; but the pro"posed surrender goes but little way in carrying "out that principle, which equally required that "such private property should not be seized or "molested by national ships of war. Should the "leading powers of Europe concur in proposing, "as a rule of international law, to exempt private "property, upon the Ocean, from seizure by "public armed cruisers, as well as by privateers, "the United States will readily meet them upon "that broad ground."

This overture has never been accepted by England and France, yet although they have not carried the ameliorative principle, which it embodies, into practical effect, there is no doubt as to the general sense of the civilized World at the present day.—

It favors the application of the ameliorative principle to all the relations of man; and hence the violent strivings in a wilfully, retrogressive course by a portion of the Southern people, wherein you consider, Raphael Semmes a conspicuous object, is repugnant to the better instincts of the time;—however heroic the actors may be.—But I fear to overrun your space, remaining, Your Subscriber,

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

SUPREME COURT, 21*st January*, 1864.

The Attorney General applied to be allowed to add a Count of Piracy to the one of Murder against Vanderlande, which case was ordered for trial this morning.

His Lordship refused the application.

ATTORNEY GENERAL:—Then, my Lord I apply to be allowed to change the count to one of Piracy.

HIS LORDSHIP:—No, the case must take its course as it stands. Under what Act do you apply?

ATTORNEY GENERAL:—In England it would be allowed.

HIS LORDSHIP:—We must take the law as it stands here. Will you answer my question Mr. Attorney, under what Act do you apply?

ATTORNEY GENERAL:—Well, my Lord I have sent for the books. I cannot answer your question without referring to them.

The Attorney General then asked that the case might be allowed to stand over for him to examine the depositions more minutely.

His Lordship said that cases from the Consular Courts should not be sent to the Magistrates here at all but to the Registrar of the Supreme Court, who should immediately hand the documents over to the Crown Solicitor.

ATTORNEY GENERAL:—The Originals my Lord I really must ob—

HIS LORDSHIP:—I will not argue the matter Mr. Attorney.

ATTORNEY GENERAL:—I am not arguing, my Lord.

The case was then ordered to stand over.

The following gentlemen formed the Jury: F. A. Rozario, Pedro M. Carvalho, Fred. J. O'Callaghan, Richard, H. Radecker, John S. Macdonald, V. P. Rocha, and Henry Jurgens.

WILLIAM JONES, an Inspector of the Hongkong Police Force, was placed at the bar, charged on two counts, with having extorted money from Ho Amooy on the 30th December.

HO AMOOY deposed: I am a shopman in the Wing Hop Cook shop, Queens Road West, opposite Circular Buildings. Shen Allun is the Master of the shop. The house was pulled down in November, and was being proceeded with in December; I was employed to superintend the buildings. There were some proceedings in the Police Court about the building in the middle of December. The workmen were engaged on the building during the whole of December. I remember the 30th of that month, in the morning I met the prisoner who came to the door of the building. He said "You are building that shop, you give me some money, I'll secure, nothing more will happen, I'm an Inspector." Before he said this, I had said nothing to him. The prisoner had on the 27th of December applied to me for money. At that time He came to the door and looked in and smilingly said, "you give me some money it will be all right. Witness made no reply. The prisoner spoke in Chinese. I had a conversation with him between the 27th and 30th. I took a fifty dollar note from my purse, belonging to my master, and then the prisoner said. "People are looking at us" and then we both walked up Hollywood road as far as the Joss-house in Pound Lane, where I handed the note to the prisoner and he walked away. When I took the note from my pocket I opened it and showed it the prisoner saying. "Here are fifty dollars for you." He said "chin chin" and walked away. I returned home and told my master. After that I went to see a friend, and on my return to the building I found another policeman finding fault with the building. That policeman stopped the work. I went in search of the prisoner but could not find him that day. The following morning I saw him again pass, I said to him "You said if I paid fifty dollars, no fear, and now another policeman has stopped the work, you had better give back the dollars." The prisoner said in Chinese "not me not me." I insisted on his giving back the money. A constable came up; the prisoner gave me and I gave the prisoner into custody.

Cross examined.—The prisoner was not taken by the policeman to the station, but came afterwards. I know it was half past seven as I had just seen a clock in the neighbourhood. The workmen have their breakfast at day light before they come to work. I went to masters shop in the Western market directly I had given prisoner the note, and told my master. I then returned to the building. The prisoner was by himself at the time I offered him the money. He came to the shop on the 30th, and asked me for the money without my first speaking to him, I have never said that I spoke to the prisoner first, asking him if the building would do. The prisoner was the first to speak on the 27th. I never said that I did not know him prior to the 30th. I told my master that the Inspector wanted money, after the prisoner had said so. I gave also as a reason that the Inspector wanted money, because he passed every morning and looked up at the building. I know the Inspector of buildings, Inspector Nelson; it was he who complained about the building, and took the proceedings at the police court. When I returned to the building on the 30th, Inspector Nelson was not there, but a policeman. I did not go to the Central Station to look for the man to whom I gave the fifty dollars. I did not go to any station to look for him.

The witness's deposition taken before the Magistrate was read in which it appeared that he had said "I had a previous knowledge of the prisoner by having seen him walking in the street, I had not further knowledge of him."

Cross examination continued;—I did not say those words before the Magistrate, nor did I ask him who he was before he asked me for money. I said before the Magistrate that the prisoner first asked me for money.

SHAU ALLUN, was next examined. he said, I am keeper of the Wing Hop Cook shop; I remember having a conversation with the last witness on the 29th of December, when he gave me $150. I gave him back $100 for one purpose and $50 for another. On the 30th I saw the last witness at 8 o'clock in the morning for the first time that day. He then made a communication to me. I was summoned some time previously before the Magistrate about my new building.

YEBP ACHSONG, On the 30th of December, I was employed by Mr. Carr; on that morning between 7 and 8 o'clock I was standing at the door of the Tavern, opposite last witness's shop where I saw the prisoner and the first witness standing in the middle of the road looking up at the new building. There were no other persons near. I did not take particular notice of what was doing. They both left together and went up the Hollywood Road.

Cross examined.—I only saw him sideways, and cannot be sure that prisoner is the same man who was with witness.

YEBP AYUN deposed: I was employed by Shau Alium on the 30th December. Between 7 and 8 o'clock on that morning I saw an Inspector of police with first witness standing in the road. I was sitting at the door of the building; the prisoner was the Inspector I saw; they both stood together looking up at the building, talking. They remained long enough to drink two cups of hot tea. They both then went away up Hollywood Road. About ten o'clock I saw a policeman stop the workmen. I did not see either the prisoner or first witness afterwards.

In cross examination the witness said that he had since left that employ having remained in it only about ten days. He was then acting as a watchman.

This was the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Kingsmill having addressed the jury for the defence called.

FRANCIS LITTLE who deposed:—I live at the "Royal Oak," situated beyond the steps leading to the Joss-house, I got up at half past six on the morning of the 30th December. I looked at the clock as the boy was taking down the shutters. I saw the prisoner outside who asked me if I had some warm water as he was chilly and wanted a warm drink. I said I had none, and he had better go to the Liverpool "Arms." We went there together. They had none, so we went to the "British Queen" We got there about ten minutes to 7. We there saw a man named Hanmer, who was behind the bar. Jones asked for warm water, which Hanmer said he would get ready. A man named Bell came in, then Kelly and Goodhue arrived. Bell spoke to the prisoner about a discharge. The water got boiled, and we all had drinks. We then talked some time longer, when Jones said, "It's getting late, I must go to see Dr. Murray. Blocked at the clock, it was a quarter past 8; I said I want ted to see Dr. Murray about Dr. Rice, and went with the prisoner as far as Harper's Yard. We kept together all the way. We passed the "Army and Navy" Hotel on the way. Jones said that the Doctor might be busy so I had better come another time, I then returned, seeing Jones ascending the hill to the Hospital.

Cross examined by the Attorney General.—I went to the Police Court on the 31st having been suppœaned. This happened the day before. I should say it was about 20 minutes to 9 when I left the prisoner.

By the Court.—I told the story I have told today for the first time to Mr. Kingsmill. I was not aware that Jones had been arrested till the day after he was arrested.

HENRY HANMER.—I am a Boarding Master and live at the British Queen. On the 30th December, I was behind the bar at 10 minutes to 7 when the prisoner and last witness came in. They asked for a hot drink. They waited, and then a man named Bell with Kelly and Goodhue came in. The water was ready and they got their drinks about 5 minutes before 8. Jones said it was late and started off with last witness at a quarter past 8. The others left immediately after.

Cross-examined.—I am quite sure of the time that they came in, and when they went out.

By the Court, on the same day I heard that Jones was arrested, Kelly told me to be at the Court, and I went there on the day after all this occurred.

James Kelly.—I keep a boarding house. On the Morning of the 30th December I went to the "British Queen" at about 7 o'clock, to speak to a man named Bell. I there saw Inspector Jones, Bell and Hanmer. Another man named Goodhue came in. I stayed there till a quarter past eight. I know the time because I heard Jones say it was a quarter past eight. Jones and Little both left together.

DANIEL GOODHUE gave similar evidence.

SERGEANT ABBOTT:—I was on duty at the Civil Hospital on the morning of the 30th Dec., to get a certificate from the Doctor about some dead bodies, I waited till about 5 minutes to 9. I saw Jones at the foot of the gap coming towards the Hospital. There was an European with him who left him at the foot of the hill. I was at the gate when he arrived and it was then 20 minutes to 9.

MR. MAY, the magistrate gave the prisoner an excellent character for integrity and honesty during the term of four years he had been in the Police force. He said that about the latter part of 1862 the prisoner went to his very neighbourhood (Circular Buildings) to gain some evidence, regarding some cloth which had been stolen, when a bribe of $150 was offered him by a Chinaman, and actually a sum of $150 was received by him, when he immediately gave the man into custody, and brought him before him (Mr. May) for bribery.

The Attorney General having replied, His Lordship summed up, and the jury found the prisoner Not Guilty.

The "Hydaspe" in trouble again.

We regret to hear that the Messageries Imperiales Steamer Hydaspes, has again come to grief. An attempt was being made to haul the vessel off the mud bank on which her repairs, under Mr. Engineer Muirhead, were being most satisfactorily effected, when the stem (iron,) on which an undue strain had been laid, gave way and the whole job to the bows has to be done a new. To take the Hydaspe's place with the mails advertised to leave on Thursday next, the P. & O. S. N. Co., with their accustomed liberality, have loaned the Granada, Captain Laing, the departure of that vessel being thus delayed from Saturday morning as before announced.—Friend of China Jan. 14th.

M.'s Consul at Canton Certificate No.——for the sum of $ payable at sight by the Officer in charge of the Treasury chest in the Colony of Hongkong being the interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum on $ the amount contained in the 1st Certificate No.——granted for Indemnity for losses at Canton by Her Majesty's Minister at Peking from the 15th day of December, 1856 to the date thereof viz the 22nd October 1861 and on $ the amount contained in the 2nd Certificate No. payable 12 months after said date or from the 15th December, 1856, to the 22nd October, 1862: And I (or we) have hereby accepted the same as a settlement in full of my (or our) claim for losses incurred by me (or us) through the destruction of the Foreign Factories at Canton on the 14th day of December, 1856, and I (or we) hereby relinquish all further claims on Her Majesty's Government in respect thereof.

D. B. ROBERTSON,
H. B. M.'s Consul for Canton.

CIRCULAR.

THE Provisional Committee for promoting the erection of a City Hall in Hongkong, desire to report the progress that has been made, up to the close of the present year, in furthering the object for which they are associated.

The principal difficulty connected with this undertaking has been to procure a site that should be at once suitable for the purpose, and in the gift of Government; it being obvious that the present high value of Land within the limits of the City made it impossible that any sum of money, which the Committee could expect to command, would prove adequate if ground had to be purchased.

An application for a site at the Western Corner of the Parade Ground, immediately under Messrs. A. Heard & Co.'s Office, was promptly and liberally conceded, but, before any formal grant of the Land had been made, it was fortunately discovered that difficulties, previously thought insuperable, to the occupation of the piece of ground now partially occupied by the Harbour Master's Office, were susceptible of removal; and the Committee have the satisfaction of stating that a recommendation for a grant of that site (undoubtedly the most eligible for the purposes of a City Hall in the whole Colony) has, with the approval of the Military Authorities, been forwarded by the local Government to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and that the position of the Drinking Fountain (presented to the City by Mr. John Dent, and now in course of erection) has been determined with special reference to the dimensions and situation of the proposed Building.

The space which, is it confidently hoped, will be thus placed at the disposal of the Committee will enable them to embrace in their scheme the following accomodation:—

I. A Public Hall, to be called the St. Andrew's Hall, in acknowledgment of a sum of Five Thousand Dollars, which has been voted to the undertaking from the surplus Funds of the late St. Andrew's School. This room will be available for Public Meetings, Public Dinners, Balls, Concerts, and other public purposes.

II. A Supper Room adjoining the Hall, and which, together with the Hall, can be used, when not specially required for other purposes, as an Exchange.

III. A Room for the Chamber of Commerce, where files of Newspapers, Prices Current, Books of Commercial reference and Telegrams will be opened to the use of Subscribers to that Institution.

IV. A Public Library for the objects stated by the Trustees of the Morrison Education Society in their printed Circular of the 1st May last.

V. A permanent Theatre, which will encourage visits to Hongkong by musical and histrionic artists from other parts of the East, and will obviate the necessary heavy and unsatisfactory outlay which the frequent erection of a temporary Theatre has hitherto entailed.

The remainder of the space will be absorbed by the Harbour Master's Office, which will be removed from its present position to one appropriated for it in the North Eastern angle of the intended building, in accordance with the proposal submitted by the Committee to Government for permission to use the site which that office at present partially occupies.

Finished plans have not yet been prepared, and it is proposed that, at the proper time, they should be thrown open to competition, but the Committee have satisfied themselves that the space they have applied for will be ample for carrying out the various objects enumerated above on a scale which will render the intended edifice an ornament to the City, a convenience to the public, and in every way worthy of a Colony whose rapid growth and progress are the surest proofs of its wealth, enterprise and prosperity.

The urgency of the want that exists for a Public Building of this nature need scarcely be dilated on. Without diverting the Club House from its legitimate uses, at a great sacrifice of the convenience of its members, there is not in the length and breadth of the City a suitable room which can be commanded for any object of general or social interest. The difficulties that attended the Inauguration Dinner of the Volunteers, the abandonment last winter of a Masonic Ball for want of a room to hold it in, and the disadvantages to which the professional Artists at present here are exposed, are a few instances amongst very many of the inconveniences occasioned by the want of a City Hall, a want, the Committee believe, which is not shared by any other foreign Community of equal importance East of the Cape, a want which has been recently supplied at Singapore and which they trust will not be allowed much longer to serve as an indication of an absence of public spirit in Hongkong.

The preservation of the valuable collections of Books in the care of the Trustees of the Morrison Education Society, and which are threatened with decay for want of a proper place of deposit, is an object which especially commends itself as a matter of public import in a region so remote from the great centres of civilization, and where the want of standard works of reference and solid instruction makes itself continually felt.

In reference to the important question of Funds, the Committee are glad to be able to announce that they have actually in hand a sum of upwards of Fifteen Thousand Dollars, which is expected to be increased to upwards of Twenty Thousand Dollars by a Donation from the Chamber of Commerce. This amount, which has been collected from various sources without any appeal having yet been made to the Community generally, fall, however, obviously short of what will be required for the purposes contemplated, and the Committee trust that further contributions will be liberally and spontaneously tendered in support of the undertaking. Old residents, in retiring from the Colony may perhaps adopt the example of some who have preceded them and evince their interest in its progress and in the well-being of their successors by a contribution to the Fund. The payment of interest on the Canton claims also affords an opportunity for Donations of sums of no great importance individually, but which in the aggregate would materially assist the common object.

The Provisional Committee in concluding their present report, have thankfully to acknowledge the receipt of various amounts from Mr. John Dent, Mr. C. P. Still, Mr. Edward Webb, the late Mr. Angus Fletcher, the Choral Society of Hongkong, and the Trustees of the St. Andrew's School. Further Subscriptions will be received by either of the Trustees,—Messrs. TURING, NOBLE and OWEN.

EXTRACT.

The Times' Correspondent's letter from New York.

The Civil War in America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

It may appear incredible, but we have up to this moment no intelligence to communicate of the progress of military operations. The experience of the last two years has sufficiently familiarized us with the phenomenon, yet it tasks all our powers of comprehension to realize the fact that some of the greatest armies the world ever mustered stirred by the most intense feeling of Cain-like animosity the human heart ever harboured, under the most suspicious circumstances of bright bracing inspiriting weather, should run on week after week, month after month, so close to each other that the pickets on one side fling "chaff," when they do not pop lead, at the sentries of the other; and yet the news from beginning to end of a whole autumn season should be "no news."

The summary of one week's information reads like a parody and mockery, rather than a repetition of the foregoing one. "All is quiet in the Army of the Potomac." Sumter has undergone from the Union batteries the heaviest bombardment that ever took place. "From sundown on Wednesday till sundown on Thursday the Federals fired 1,200 shots from 15-inch mortars and 300-pounder Parrotts." They might as well have fired at the moon. The enemy gave back noise for all this noise. The rebel loss is seven wounded."

From Tennessee the bulletins are even more flat, stale, and unprofitable. General Thomas never tires of exalting the heroism of the victor in the fight of the 28th. "General Hooker," he writes, took many prisoners, among whom were four officers and one hundred and three men." The rest must have been cattle. Hooker himself had 35 officers and men dead and wounded. General Grant had reached the camp at Chattanooga where "since the bloody battle on the Chickamauga, the army had settled down into the usual quiet of camp life." Some way, it is generally felt, must be found to break this dead lock." Bragg must be evicted from his present position. This is the business of General Grant; " but he takes big time about it like his predecessors. Complaints are raised by people competent to form a judgment on such matters that the Federals are leaving too many troops in their rear. " It is leaving too many troops in all roads, held to be necessary to guard strongly all roads, and to garrison all towns. An immense army is held between Nashville and Louisville. In those cities themselves the military authority is omnipresent. The streets are swarming with soldiers. The military hand is everywhere." From these statements we may gather—1, That the position of the army of the Cumberland is yet insecure; 2, that rebel guerillas overrun the land in every direction, gathering together, sometimes, when strengthened by Bragg's cavalry, into bands several thousands strong; 3, that the allegiance of Tennessee and Kentucky, even in the largest centres of population, is not to be relied upon.

This is election day in New York. We learn it from the newspapers, for otherwise one would not be made aware of the fact by any unusual stir perceptible in the town. The truth is, these State elections have been not inaptly compared to those "scrub races with knock-kneed, broken-winded screws with which the multitude are entertained, while their betters are making ready for the great sweepstakes." No popular vote of importance will be elicited in America, till the time comes for the Presidential election, a year hence.

Governor Seymour has been "stumping" at Utica, at Rochester, and on Saturday evening at the Cooper Institute in this city. It is difficult to dislike Mr. Seymour, for he is a gentle, amiable man, or to withold one's esteem from him, for he is well-meaning and honourable—though he is reviled by his adversaries in downright American fashion as if he were a common pickpocket. But, whatever regard one may have for the man, it is difficult to deny that, as a politician, he is in a false position. No one can dwell at greater length on the horrors of the American civil war, no one can with greater minuteness enumerate the evil it inflicts upon the country. "The President," he informs us, "has in progress of this war demanded a total of two millions of men; he asks for 600,000 more—more than 1,400,000, have already gone forth to the battlefield." "Experience has shown," he continues, "that every year wastes one-half of our armies. If it now numbers 700,000 men, each day diminishes its number by 1,000." To carry on this murderous war this country is "burdened with a debt, which is variously estimated to be from $1,500,000,000 to $2,600,000,000;" and so he goes on, talking of "inevitable bankruptcy, national ruin, social anarchy, and disorder." But, when he has said all this, could any man believe that he ends by declaring that "he is in favour of a vigorous prosecution of the war?" He is as willing to "put forth the exertion of every material power" as any one of his opponents. Only, while the Republicans wish to employ "force, force alone," he is disposed to "supersadd the power of conciliation." What cannot be achieved by subjugation he would hope to effect by compromise.

This is, and ever will be, the stumbling-block for these amiable Union-Democrats. They agree with the Republicans that "the Union must be saved," that "the Constitution must be upheld." Were they to come into power to-morrow, they would consider themselves bound to carry on the war—nay, to push it on with still greater vigour, but they would give the Southerners to understand that they wished for peace; that they would make peace with them on any terms that might save the Union and uphold the Constitution." This presupposes, of course, that there is a corresponding disposition to reconciliation and reunion in the South. Mr. Seymour tells us "there are hundreds and thousands of Democrats at the South; hundreds and thousands of Democrats in the North, who believe that at this hour a majority may, more, he believes that at this hour a majority of the Southern people, if they could return once again within the folds of this Union, and feel themselves protected by its Constitution, would again come back to their allegiance." This is Mr. Seymour's opinion, the conceit of a man who lives in Albany, deep in official business, and knows no more about the South than what he learns from hearsay. But, place him to-morrow at the head of the Government, invest him, not only with the President's, but with all a dictator's powers, and what would he do? What would he do if he found that the South would hear nothing of conciliation or compromise, but insisted on separation from the abhorred Yankee? This is the Republican answer to all Mr. Seymour's specious arguments; and since, in all probability, they say, the Opposition would not get us out of the scrape of this war any sooner than the present Government, the best policy is to back the present Administration with all the people's forces, as it only can best be secured by undivided action. It is very possible, indeed, that, long as Mr. Seymour's speech was, it did not convey the whole of the orator's mind. It is possible that, like his friends Fernando Wood and Vallandigham, the Governor of New York cares less for the Union and the Constitution than for peace, and that, where conciliation might be found impracticable, he would not shrink from separation; but, were it so, it would prove that either his character is not sufficiently strong, or that the time has not yet come for him to be outspoken on this subject. The hour and the man for that object may, perhaps, never come. The longer I live among these Americans the stronger I feel the conviction growing upon me that it is neither power of eloquence nor prestige of authority that can move them out of their fond conceit of national Union. They must have their country, their continent, their world all to themselves. They will make one people so long as such an object can be attained by "the expenditure of the last dollar, or the sacrifice of the last man." They are a boasting, vainglorious race, and delight in hyperbole; but in this matter of the Union I believe they are mainly in earnest. They will not go forth themselves as fighting men so long as conscripts can be had substitutes, and natives can bribe foreigners, and whites can impress negroes. As with all commercial and industrial people, they will fight with gold (or paper) rather than iron; but they will not give up the game without a long, stubborn, desperate strife; and they will side with those, no matter how ruthless and fanatical, who are least likely to "lay hands on the plough and look backward," ostracising the Peace-at-any price politicians of the Vallandigham school, and sneering at Seymour and his milk-and-water Peace-Union and conciliation theories.

There is, in the meanwhile, no lack of efforts made to minister fresh stimulus to the innate sanguineness and endurance of these stiff-necked Yankees. The papers here incessantly repeat that "the suppression of the forces of the rebellion can and should be completed within the next six months." It is difficult to guess who are the fools deceived by these mad predictions. Privately, no one dares to assert that the war will end at the close of three or 30 years.

Again, there is no end of crowing at some alleged improvement in the state of the national finances. "Within seven months," we are told, "the people of the North have subscribed and paid for at par over $330,000,000 of six per cent. bonds." The amount of 5-20 bonds taken by the people in the course of last week was over $30,000,000; on Saturday and Friday alone $23,000,000 of such bonds were taken. This is hailed by many as a proof of the people's confidence in the Government and faith in the destinies of the country. The Opposition, however, sees little reason to congratulate the Government on the results of these operations. "A great parade is made of the stock sold," they say, "but little is said of the certificates paid; $3,000,000 of 5-20 bonds at 6 per cent. were sold by the Treasury, but as large a sum of certificates at 5 per cent. was sold; and $35,000,000 of 6 per cent. certificates of indebtedness are maturing. The Government realizes, actually, very little money. The process is simply converting paper, on which it pays 5 per cent. in "greenbacks," into other paper, on which it pays 6 per cent. gold—i. e., at the present state of gold 9 per cent. The necessity of issuing more paper money is not removed thereby. In fact, the operation is one to put more paper in the market, after the conversions which have been effected.

Without presuming to enter into the merits of this financial question, which seems to me to puzzle Americans even more than strangers, there is no doubt but the "inflation of the currency," as they love to call it—the rise in the premium of gold and in the price of all commodities—is severely felt by the lowest classes; labour is not to be procured on any terms, and there are incessant strikes among mechanics of every description. These Northerners console themselves with the assurance that their enemies are worse off than themselves. "Mr. Memminger," say the Confederate journals, "still grinds out, night and day, currency of which it takes five dollars to buy a pound of pork, and one dollar to buy a pound of flour." The Northerners repeat these statements, and fancy they can easily reconcile themselves to gold at 1461 when they bear that at Richmond "it takes 12 dollars of paper to buy one dollar in gold." No doubt it will take time to break down the almost boundless prosperity of the North, and the ruin of the South is daily being accomplished. But the North should consider that the Confederates are fighting for dear life; that any amount of sacrifice is cheerfully made if thereby the great object can be accomplished; and if that object is frustrated by the bankruptcy of the South will fall with all its weight on the victorious North, and it will be a consolation, however meagre, for the Southerners that their country should fall as utterly ruined, desolate and worthless, a prey into the hands of its conqueror as the despair of its defenders could contrive to make it.

The Democrats are very indignant against the Government for sending home thousands of soldiers that they might vote in this day's election. Over 4,000 of these transportation tickets were received at one single office in Washington on Saturday last. From 20,000 to 30,000 men are said to have left Meade's army on a ten day's leave of absence. The complaint of the men in opposition is chiefly that the public money has been squandered in the interest of one party, as the soldiers to whom furloughs have been granted were all declared Republicans while the democrats sued in vain for leave of absence. They protest, besides, that by thinning the ranks of the combatants the position of the army is imperilled, as it was at the time of the Transylvania election, when, owing to the same cause, Lee was enabled to drive up Meade to the defences of Washington. "What," they say, "if Lee should happen to be particularly anxious for battle during these days?—he must be at the trouble to seek the Army of the Potomac at New York."

Several persons have been arrested at Columbus, Ohio, charged with a "diabolical plot to upset the Government of that State, or, at least, to release the State or war prisoners, more than 3,000 of whom were confined at Camp Chase and in the Columbus Penitentiary. Amongst these is the famous John Morgan. The liberated captives were to cross the Ohio River at Marysville, probably to initiate a guerilla warfare in the rear of the Army of the Cumberland. The whole charge rests on assertion that one of the alleged conspirators had supplied the money for the purchase of axes and chloroform. The persons arrested are Mr. Chathcart, late School commissioner. Mr. Crisop, Mr. Slade, and Dr. Gazelle (obscure persons, but suspected of Copperhead tendencies), and two washerwomen, Mrs. Parmenter and Mrs. M'Donald, who had business at Newport, a suburb of Cincinnati on the Kentucky side of the Ohio, and are said to have been the bearers of treasonable correspondence. The prisoners have been admitted to bail on $10,000 securities each, and have retained as their counsel the Hon. George Pugh, late Democratic candidate for the Lieutenant Governorship of the State, and the most eloquent barrister in Cincinnati.

Nov. 4.

No news of deeds of arms to-day, but only the anticipation, vain and vague as usual, of something that may come to pass to-morrow. The results of the elections were such as all sensible persons anticipated. According to the returns of the Democrats themselves, the Administration has obtained a majority of more than 15,000 votes in the State of New York. The city itself, though it still gave the Democrats an absolute majority of 21,000, has fallen short by 10,000, of the majority by which Governor Seymour was elected last year. There is no doubt but the success of the Republicans has been equally great in Massachusetts, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, and Kansas, where partial elections came off also yester-day, everywhere with the best order and calmness; indeed, with an apathy which naturally sprang from security on the part of that party, which has actually achieved the victory. The peace-at-any-price men have gone to the wall, with Fernando Wood and Vallandigham. The war-with-conciliation men have followed them, with Seymour and his friends. It will take no small amount of adversity to sober these Yankees; still, no one can predict what would happen were the Southerners to hold out in their present position till the next Presidential election.
